Succumbs After Long Illness—Two Sons and Two Daughters Survive

It was announced Thursday afternoon that the funeral of J. H. Gariety would be held at 10 a.m. Saturday from the family residence, 1012 Jasper Avenue, to St. Joseph's church, 101st street, and thence to St. John's cemetery, where interment will take place.

J. H. Gariety, one of this city's most prominent business men and respected citizens died at his residence Wednesday at the age of 74 years after a lengthy illness. With his passing the thinning ranks of pioneers and old timers are further depleted and another link with primitive days in the west is broken.

Joseph Henrietta Gariety was born at St. Lin, Quebec, Feb. 12, 1852. On June 1, 1874, he was united in marriage to Elizabeth Josephine Gariety, who pre-deceased him three years ago.

After embarking on a business career in Montreal and pursuing it for several years, Mr. Gariety made his first trip west, travelling from Calgary, on the Great Northern railway, to Edmonton, where he constructed the Canadian Pacific railway, and then to Regina, where he was the eastern extremity of the Queen's railway, and then to the western, the Hudson's Bay company, where he was in charge of the provincial legislative assembly.

In 1892 Mr. Gariety accompanied Edmund Murray by party to the north at the corner of Jasper and 101st street, where he was in charge of the construction of the railway.

Britain Firm in Attitude as to Ships

LONDON, July 7.—The Manchester Guardian's correspondent at Geneva states that the Americans at the tripartite naval conference still insist on the idea of parity by "global tonnage." Originally they proposed a global tonnage of from 250,000 to 300,000, he said, but now are reported as willing to increase the same to 400,000 or 450,000.

The British, on the other hand, will stick to the measure of cruiser tonnage, which is being insisted on by the British position in the conference.

Stick to Measure

Each year the British shipyard produces more than 100,000 tons of ship tonnage, which is being insisted on by the British position in the conference.

COMEDY AND TRAGEDY MIX IN ESCAPEE

Elusive Royalist Leader Stars in Vivid Human Drama

By MINOT SAUNDERS
 Editor of Bulletin
 PARIS, July 7.—France laughed at when a cleverly manipulated hoax freed Leon Daudet, foremost of French Royalists, from Saintes prison the other day.

The government officials betrayed eagerness of extreme charges upon the search of their noted prisoner through the simple ruse of a false telephone call, drawing parties to release him the Paris popular laughter on the incident.

Star of Vivid Drama
 Behind the laughter was mounting sympathy for the man who, having been in prison for years, had been released and then tried "Vive le Roi" as he really succeeded.

Daudet was a member of the Academie for criminal libel when he was 25 years of age. He had written 12 days with a guard, acting on instructions of a telephone call from the minister of the interior, opened the door of his cell and told him to leave with a hurry.

The comedy thus ended was the manifestation of one of France's most vivid human dramas.

Daudet, son of Alphonse Daudet, wrote the French best-seller "Le Petit Prince" and "Le Petit Poucet". At 40, after a career marked by brilliant writings and speeches, he was in a dramatic personality able to inspire spontaneous men, born young and old to fight for the Royalist cause.

Daudet's Son Killed
 A more vivid scene took place in the town of Pau, France, on the 12th of June. The young of France was brought to the scene of a fatal accident, and died from a bullet wound in the head.

The death of the young man, an aviator, was a great blow to the family. He was a member of the French Air Force and had been killed in action.

IF IT WILL HELP ALBERTA THE BULLETIN IS FOR IT

THURSDAY, JULY 6, 1927

THE "DEADLY" FOURTH
More than two hundred and fifty people were killed during the Independence Day celebrations in the United States, while many hundreds were injured, more or less seriously. The casualty list is a heavy one, quite heavy enough to result from a minor action in war, even in these days of vast armies and fearful engines of war. The deaths and maimings must be added to the record of fratricides which our neighbors have established as usual to one of their anniversary demonstrations.

But there is this difference. The victims were killed and injured by fire-crackers, bombs and pistols. Most of those who are dead and those who are in hospital fell victims to the automobile, while still more were drowned while swimming or boating. Road accidents are, of course, inevitable on such an occasion in a country where population is so congested in certain areas and where automobiles are so common. But there are also deadly crowded conditions in Europe, where automobiles abound, and where national anniversaries are celebrated with great enthusiasm. The older lands seem to be able to do their celebrating with less killing and wounding than the Republic.

Some years ago a movement was started in the United States for a "day of peace" celebration of Declaration Day. It attained country-wide interest and resulted in tightening up of laws regarding the use of explosives, and also in a popular disposition to be more cautious in the use of them. To that end, it is interesting to note that there have been fewer casualties from explosives in recent years, and that the tendency is still to shorten the list. But the automobile has multiplied and has largely, if not entirely, offset that attempt to conserve life. The indications are that the "motor fleet" program will have to be extended to include the operation of the motor car on these festive occasions. Two hundred and fifty lives, and thousands of dollars' worth of property, make up too heavy a price to pay for a holiday.

Canada seems to have been fortunate in getting through its July with a minimum loss of life, and with relatively few property casualties. The sparse population helps to account for that happy circumstance. A generally strict enforcement of traffic laws and regulations is another factor to be recognized. But allowing for these there is cause to think that Canadians kept their heads a bit cooler than their neighbors and showed somewhat more concern for their lives and limbs and those of other people. Certainly in Edmonton very little police interference was required to enable the crowds to get about with few mistakes. The rational character of Canadians and their consideration for one another is a credit to them.

WHY SLAM THE POOLS?

Speaking at the annual meeting of the United Farmers at Harris, Saskatchewan, Mr. Saprio said that when two-thirds of the grain growers of that province have joined the pool, a very real question of the acreage is controlled by the pool. The pool members should ask the Provincial Government for legislation which would enable them to sell their grain through the pool.

The proposal is radical, both as touching the policy of the wheat pools and in respect to the accepted rights and liberties of the farmer. It is a question of the acreage being controlled by the pool. The pool members should ask the Provincial Government for legislation which would enable them to sell their grain through the pool.

Where does Mr. Saprio get the evidence that the pool has failed in its original purpose, and that if they are to be kept going it must be by means of a policy of tyranny? There has been nothing made public to warrant any such assumption. But aside from that, the pool has not failed in its purpose. It has not failed in its purpose.

The annual convention held at Calgary last week and getting them all that could be got of the money the miller pays for wheat to grind. The construction of a large elevator at Buffalo, Alberta, and the plans to build a large elevator at Vancouver during the present summer, show that the management of the pool have no doubts about their stability or about their opportunity to do a far larger business in the future than they have done in the past. The question of the grain-growing companies have not indicated that there is any notable slump in membership to be anticipated. And if that were in prospect, Mr. Saprio's modest proposal would be obviously not practicable. If two-thirds of the Saskatchewan grain growers are likely to join the pool, coercive tactics are plainly not necessary to sustain the organization. And he admits that less than that number could not maintain the organization.

Mr. Saprio has done the pools a large disservice in suggesting that they cannot do business, or accomplish anything to justify their existence, without resorting to Prussian methods. To spread that kind of a time when former members are being asked to contract to sell their wheat for the next five years exclusively through the pool, and when non-members are being asked to bind themselves in like manner, is not helping a bit to make the membership campaign a success. About the best thing the management of the pools can do in the circumstances is to make plain that they told the truth when they have declared that their organizations have been successful as voluntary associations of grain growers, and that Mr. Saprio is speaking for himself only, and without their sanction, when he invites the farmers to suspect the contrary.

Montreal had a July snow-storm. Foul that Alberta should be unmercifully, but they just want to help them that nothing of that kind has happened in these parts.

CHECKING SPINAL PARALYSIS

Recently a great deal of publicity has been given to several cases where death resulted from Landry's disease. This is a form of acute ascending spinal paralysis, and has been named after Gene Landry, a French physician who spent considerable time in investigating this rare disease. In Landry died in 1913, so you can see that even though this is a rare disease, we have known about it for a long time.

Acute inflammation starts in the lower spine, and if it is not stopped, gradually ascends the spinal cord and produces paralysis, which begins in the toes and creeps up the body as the different spinal centers are affected. When the fever and degeneration reach the nerves controlling respiration, death usually ensues very quickly. Patients have, however, been kept alive for several days by artificial respiration, and in a few cases this treatment has sustained life until the fever disappeared, allowing the patient to recover.

The common basic cause of this paralysis is essentially the same as with infantile paralysis or spinal meningitis. A systemic toxemia must exist before such spinal inflammation can be generated.

At the first signs of any kind of paralysis, it is important to reduce the general body temperature as rapidly as possible. To accomplish this, the patient should be kept in a cool room, and the body should be cooled by sponging with cold water. # Third Round Canadian Amateur Golf

THREE FORMER WINNERS ARE STILL IN FIGHT FOR TITLE

Three Americans and Five Canadians Survive Second Round—Thompson Brothers Given Rousing Battles—Somerville in Form

HAMILTON, Ont., July 7.—As a result of Wednesday's second round in the Canadian amateur golf championship at Ancaster, three of the four third-round matches today will be international affairs, the field having been reduced to three Americans, one of them being Frank Thompson, a Canadian playing from the Knottwood club of Chicago, and five Canadians. Three of the survivors of Wednesday's play are former winners of the title, Frank Thompson, 1921 and 1924 champion; Don Carvick, winner in 1925; and Charles Somerville, the defending champion.

The Thompson brothers, Stanley and Frank, were principals in the closest matches of the day. Stanley being carried to the home hole before he eliminated W. Henderson, of the London Hunt, 2 up, while Frank was carried to the 18th by J. C. Maclellan, before winning 2 and 1.

CARVICK AND SOMERVILLE WERE IN GREAT FORM. Don Carvick and Somerville, both of whom are in the lower half of the draw, showed strong form in Wednesday's matches. Carvick was especially strong against Paul H. Hilde, of the Toronto Country club, although the latter kept on his ball until the sixth hole, when he was forced to concede. Somerville drew away with ease from the first hole, and made the turn for home on the seventh and made the turn for home on the eighth, winning three of the next four holes and halving the first five holes of the afternoon with Don Carvick.

WINDYCRIFT. July 7.—Ridley College cricketers, of St. Catharines, Ont., played brilliantly here Wednesday to defeat the Winnipeg Wanderers, after a 37-run 128 to 95. When stumps were drawn at the lunch hour, the Ridley boys had scored 137 runs for the loss of six wickets, after some beautiful play by Hardy and Bell, the high scorers of the day with 24 and 28 runs respectively.

THEY ALL COUNT. Phenomenal putting by W. F. G. Hill, of London, gave him a 3 and 2 win over Arthur J. W. Chordale, the winner sinking many long and true winners. Hill looked like halter or wire for London in the green, but was defeated by H. Gardner, defeated by H. C. Burdett, 10 and 8.

Prominent Jockey Is Injured in Accident. A Canadian amateur golf championship match, which was held at Ancaster, Ont., on Wednesday, July 6, was interrupted by a serious accident to a prominent jockey, who was injured while riding a horse.

There were no surprises provided the second round, the play of the whole being very forthright and the winners were won by confident margins.

W. Henderson, London Hunt club, topped up as the possible dark horse in the tournament, on Tuesday when he eliminated A. C. Liner, who was considered the principal American threat, but today he was never in form. In fact, it was a surprise that the second round that he came with the result that made the match interesting and forced Stanley Thompson to go to the home hole.

At the last hole, Henderson needed a win to send the match into overtime, but he shot caught the trap of this game. Henderson shot 3 and 2 and the match.

The flare of the tiny flame was as though lightning had struck the awnings.

THIS HAS HAPPENED
Attempts have been made on the life of ELISE MARGHERY, an American girl owning considerable property near the little town of PORTO VERDE in west central Brazil.

Several mysterious deaths have occurred, but so far she has escaped harm due to the shadowing of her cousin and protector, VILAK, who masquerades as her steward under the name of DAVIS. VILAK, a curious mixture of American and Oriental blood, is a student of criminology. He tries to persuade Elise to leave the country, telling her that with his friends LINCOLN NINNALLY, an elderly American chemist, to solve the mystery.

After her two-year-old orphan and nephew is kidnapped, he is found again by the alert VILAK, and another attempt is made on her life. Elise agrees. Her departure is prevented by threat of blood. Newsagents ride through the countryside, warning the natives. VILAK decides to go to the house of GAY-LEIGH PENTIN, a rich and a forbidding man, and an enemy of Elise's, whom she suspects of a knowledge of the conspiracy against her. Nevertheless, she agrees it is their duty to warn him.

VILAK learns that the friend warning was a trap to get her away from the house. He forms him. The party is arrested in a small hut near Porto Verde. They are taken to a house in Porto Verde, where they are held by dynamite and a small boat. When the water recedes they discover that the boat is a trap.

The next day, TINKY, Elise's little nephew, is seen again. The trail leads into the jungle. A native hunter, who has been seen with a baby, VILAK makes preparations for a journey in pursuit. With native trackers, they take up the trail.

NOW BEGIN THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXV
For two more days they traveled without seeing a sign of either human or human habitation except the sharp mountain cuts in the branches and the jagged rock outcrops which showed them their course.

Then on the morning of the fifth day out from Porto Verde, on a low mound rising slightly above the level of the forest, the natives who appeared to be a secondary trail coming from a clearly different direction and aiming their own feet. VILAK, cautious, stopped carefully.

Between clumps of tall grass he found a number of cigarette stumps. They were filled with a cheap, coarse tobacco. He found the cigarette stumps were filled with a cheap, coarse tobacco. He found the cigarette stumps were filled with a cheap, coarse tobacco.

Quickly VILAK pushed them out of his mind, and turned them out upon a pile of refuse. He turned them out upon a pile of refuse. He turned them out upon a pile of refuse. He turned them out upon a pile of refuse.

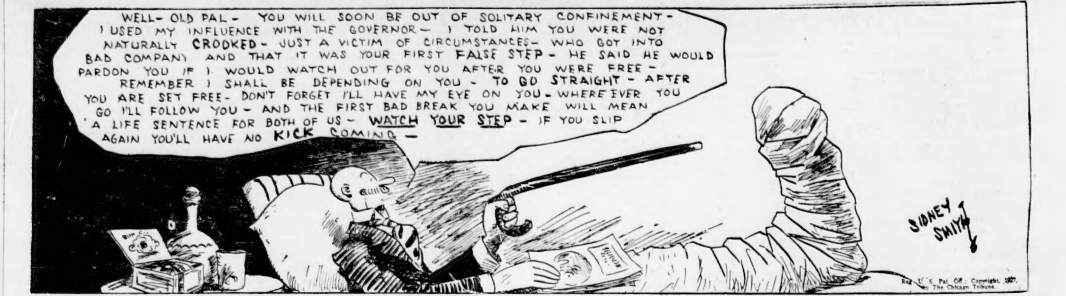

The fragments bore part of a name. VILAK, however, did not know the name. He turned them out upon a pile of refuse. He turned them out upon a pile of refuse. He turned them out upon a pile of refuse.

JULY WHEAT
PRICES UP

WINNIPEG, July 7.—July wheat is the way to higher prices on the Winnipeg grain market today. Substantial buying orders from Eastern and continental countries have been placed in the market. Much of the trading was accounted to a sharp covering value than an export business. Direct export business transacted a little cash over the market, but their operations were carried to 11:45, but prices fell off fractionally to close from 1 1/2 to 2 1/4 cents higher.

All the other grains were stronger and higher with wheat. There was a fair volume of inquiry in the grain market.
